MEMORANDUM FOR: Assistant Director for Operations

SUBJECT: FBID Progress Report for June 1964

GENERAL

1. Cyprus Situation: The Cyprus crisis hit another of its intermittent peaks in the first few days of June when the threat of Turkish military intervention again loomed large, and for the third time a Sixth Fleet ship was ordered to standby off the north coast of the island for possible American evacuation of the Kyrenia/Karavas area by sea. There was, however, no interference or interruption in the bureau's operations, the danger passed, and the situation returned to "normal" instability. Later in the month there were numerous reports of Greek Cypriot military buildup and an influx of militarily trained Greek Cypriot students from Greece. This buildup was not accompanied by escalation of Greek Cypriot attacks on Turkish positions, however.

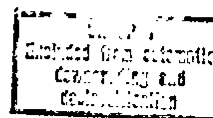

Two Arabic monitors and Chief Monitor [] returned to Cyprus 50X1 to provide coverage of Middle East broadcasts which have become inaudible at Caversham. A third Arabic monitor is scheduled to return to the Mediterranean Bureau in July. There are indications that additional coverage, including that of some MENA morning transmissions, will also have to be switched back to Cyprus.

A Turkish guard returned to duty at the bureau from extended LWOP, leaving only one employee, a Greek Cypriot technician, still off duty because of the communal strife.

Hopes that permission for the Bureau Chief's wife and family to set up residence in Nicosia for representational purposes might be a forerunner to further relaxation of the ban on dependents on the island received a sharp setback when the Department of State revoked its previous approval. Meanwhile, FBIS has been seeking approval, in the face of Department of State and Office of Communications disinterest, for the families of Staff personnel assigned recently to Cyprus to travel to Beirut. Barring this possibility, shortened tours of duty for Cyprus-assigned Staff personnel would be the only way to alleviate the hardships of long family separation.

2. North Vietnam Press: An FBIS representative participated in a Collection Guidance Staff meeting with representatives of FDD and the Acquisitions Branch to discuss improved exploitation of North Vietnamese publications. FBIS restated its position that the Saigon Bureau and the Daily Report could fully meet the Department of State INR's requirements for prompt and thorough processing of material from key publications if it were allocated one senior editor and two Vietnamese translator positions at the Saigon Bureau and one additional publications typist in Headquarters. It has not been determined whether the main responsibility for exploitation will be delegated to the Saigon Bureau or to FDD. As a possible means of getting quicker delivery of North Vietnamese publications to Washington for FDD processing, the Saigon Bureau Chief was requested to make an informal survey of U.S. Government components in Saigon to determine if publications could be gathered together by the Saigon Bureau for airpouching to Washington. Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese section of the Far East Daily Report has been expanded to allow publishing of all scrutiny material currently done by the Saigon Bureau in lieu of passing FBIS-translated items to FDD for publication.

3. Southeast Asia Intelligence Services: The intense interest of the intelligence community in Southeast Asia was reflected in special services provided by FBIS. Advance copies of articles on Laos in the 25 June Survey were sent to ONE, OCI and the State Department were briefed on the daily volume and bearing of Peking comment to Laos; and the DD/I's office was supplied with DRV official statements on Hanoi policy objectives in Southeast Asia, Hanoi statements reflecting the DRV position vis-a-vis the Sino-Soviet polemic, and DRV and CPR material on the November 1956 peasant revolt in the DRV.

4. Other Special Services: The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee was provided a compilation of RPB studies in the past year on the Sino-Soviet rift. Chinese communist comments regarding CPR capability to detonate a nuclear device were provided to the Department of State at the request of Under Secretary Harriman's office, and copies of a 25 June article discussing Chen I's recent remarks on Chinese acquisition of nuclear weapons were supplied to the DD/I's office.

5. Tape Recordings: There was considerable demand for tape recordings during the month, including a BBC request for Castro's May Day speech, a Department of State request for recordings of broadcasts by U.S. students visiting Cuba, a request from DD/P and OCI for Tashkent in Uighur broadcasts, and a USIA request for Moscow in Cambodian and Yerevan in Armenian broadcasts.

6. Subscribers to Publications: After a short trial period, Senator Mansfield terminated his subscriptions to the Four area Daily Reports. Representative Ogden Reid is now the only Congressman receiving an area Daily Report. At the request of ONE, the three-volume set of Broadcasting Stations of the World was sent to General Conrad Kuehlein, West German intelligence representative.

7. Lateral Services: As a special service to the Nigerian Northern Regional Government, the African Bureau supplied the names of men whose "treason trial" convictions were quashed in Lagos and provided special coverage of a NEPU leader's statement. The Okinawa Bureau began sending to the American Consulate General in Hong Kong monthly reports on Chinese regional radio reception for forwarding to the Hong Kong Government Regional Information

Office, which in turn is providing the bureau with its reception reports and copies of the weekly RIO publication "News from Chinese Provincial Radio Stations."

8. Use of FBIS Material: During June 17 percent of the items appearing in the OCI Digest were based wholly or in part on material supplied by FBIS.

9. Radio Propaganda Reports: "Signs of Contention Over Implementation of Khrushchev's Program for Chemicals and Agriculture" was issued as CD.247. The 16th in the Cuban series, RS.71, a companion to the paper on Guantanamo, provided a compilation of Cuban and Soviet leaders' statements on overflights with an introductory review of Cuban and Soviet stands on the issue.

10. Daily Report Supplement: Daily Report Supplement No. 7 for 1964, "Antonin Novotny's 28 May Speech to Prague Conference of Communist Party Factory Organization Chairmen," was published 9 June. Printing of this 43-page Supplement by the offset method and with small type required approximately 10,000 fewer impressions--5,000 fewer sheets of paper--for the 1,130 copies than would have been used with mimeographing.

11. Consumer Survey: A survey of consumers of all FBIS publications, except World Reaction Reports which appear very infrequently and Broadcasting Stations of the World which is now published every two years, was begun during the month. In addition to eliciting general consumer reaction, one of the main objectives of this survey is a more economical and rational distribution of FBIS publications by locating and deleting any unnecessary subscriptions.

12. Publication Change: The Middle East, Africa, and West Europe Daily Report was converted completely to publication with offset mats and small type on 24 June. The "Pink" and "Blue" books are now regularly offset printed. PSD and FBIS adjustment problems may delay until September the conversion of the remaining two area books.

13. Broadcast, Press Exploitation: In June 87 percent of the Daily Report was devoted to broadcast material and 13 percent to press scrutiny.

14. Program Evaluation: The Panama Bureau contracted for a 30-day sample of Havana broadcasts in Guarani and Aymara, which have not previously been evaluated because FBIS does not have capability in these languages. The Bureau will mail the material to Headquarters without lateral dissemination and it will not be published.

15. Moscow Lao Broadcasts: Radio Moscow announced on 30 June that it would begin broadcasting two 15-minute daily programs in Lao. The Okinawa Bureau will sample them.

16. Broadcast Language Guide: The FBIS annual "Guide to Languages Used in International Broadcasting," listing 135 verified languages, has been prepared for publication in July.

17. Poor Kaduna Communications: African Bureau communications were extremely poor during the month, partly because only skeleton Nigerian staffs manned communications centers in Kaduna and Lagos during the 1-13 June nationwide strike and also because of Kaduna-Lagos circuit breakdowns, equipment failures, and poor propagation conditions on the Lagos-London radioteletype circuit. As a result, the bureau's file was cut sharply and some nonperishable material was mailed to London and Washington.

18. Briefings: [redacted] briefed Lt. General Albert Watson on FBIS and Okinawa Bureau operations. General Watson will be the new U.S. High Commissioner in Okinawa. Intelligence representatives of Great Britain, Canada, and New Zealand were briefed at East Coast Bureau and Headquarters; a large group of USIA analysts visited Headquarters; and the new liaison officer at DIA's Current Intelligence and Indications Center, Commander Leo Anderson, also was briefed in Headquarters. A group of war planners visited the East Coast Bureau, where they were oriented in FBIS field bureau operations and shown the Transportable Monitoring Unit.

50X1

19. African Bureau Visitors: U.S. Ambassador to Nigeria Elbert G. Mathews, Department of State Nigerian Desk Officer David Bolen, and U.S. Consul Patrick O'Sheel visited the African Bureau for briefing and orientation. Later in the month the Governor of Northern Nigeria, Sir Kashim Ibrahim, members of his staff, and an entourage of reporters also visited the bureau for orientation.

FACILITIES

20. Teletype Room Modernization: Rewiring and remodeling of the teletype room in preparation for the installation of new equipment began ahead of schedule in early June and the project was 35 percent completed by the end of the month. It is expected that it will be finished late in July.

21. New Equipment Procurement: Allocation of yearend funds to FBIS permitted the ordering of IBM transistorized magnetic belt recording and transcribing equipment to replace all recorders and transcribers presently in use throughout FBIS. In addition, funds were made available for two automatic programmers which will be used in conjunction with DDR5-B receivers at the East and West Coast Bureaus to provide fully automatic program tuning over a 24-hour period.

22. TV Image Photography: At the Tokyo Bureau tests were made with a small Japanese television receiver coupled with locally fabricated attachments to Robot and Polaroid cameras which provided clearer picture definition and overcame picture jitter.

23. Antenna Improvements: A long-wire antenna was installed for general use at the Austrian Bureau, installation of a rhombic antenna at the Africa Bureau was contracted for, and approval was granted for the Panama Bureau to construct new sloping VEE and Beverage antennas and improve its log-periodic antenna.

24. Improved Saigon Reception: The installation of two new military type radio receivers at the Saigon Bureau substantially improved reception of Laotian and Malaysian broadcasts.

25. Construction and Renovation: The construction of housing for local employees of the African Bureau continued at an agonizingly slow pace, partly as a result of financial difficulties encountered by the builder. Plans were approved for site development for a new housing area at the Okinawa Bureau, but plans to construct a new house for the Bureau Chief were disapproved. Also at the Okinawa Bureau arrangements were completed for roof repairs on six duplex houses and two four-man BOQ's and for replacement of window frames in the operations buildings.

ADMINISTRATION:

26. Personnel: During the month of June four employees entered on duty and one employee was separated from FBIS. The on-duty strength as of 30 June was [] including three employees on Leave Without Pay. There were seven professionals and seven clericals in process during the month.

50X1

27. Special Assistant: A slot for the Special Assistant to the Chief, FBIS, GS-15, a position which has been filled since early 1963 by detailing a man from another job, was officially allocated to FBIS through transfer of a T/O position from the Office of Operations.

28. Fund Allocations: FBIS received [] in year-end money, which increased total FY 1964 funds from []. Approximately $200,000 of this money was used to cover the costs of emergency evacuations from Cyprus and Panama and the remainder was allocated for the purchase of technical equipment and supplies.

50X1

50X1

29. Panama Bureau Finances: The Panama Bureau switched from unvouchered to vouchered funds effective 1 July. [] Deputy Chief of the Administrative Staff, spent several days at the bureau in late June helping in the transition.
